

Roommate Agreement

The Roommate Agreement is a tool to help you identify personal needs and desires for your living environment as well as recognize potential issues of disagreement. The Roommate Agreement is also used to help you set guidelines for the living environment based on respect and compromise. Both roommates should complete this agreement together. Upon completion, this form will be turned into your Resident Assistant. He or she will make a copy for you to post in your room, and discuss the agreement with you and your roommate.

Use of Room:

We designate the following environment for study (noise, times for studying, guests)...

We designate the following times for sleep and fun...

Guests are welcome in the room during the following times...

Guests who are not W&J students are welcome under the following conditions (times, days, frequency)...

Significant others are welcome under the following conditions (times, days, frequency)...

The cleanliness of the room/bathroom will be as follows:

We decided the following when it comes to sharing personal belongings (TV, stereo, computer, clothes, food)...

Communication:

Phone usage, both cell phone and landline, in the room will be as follows...

Private time for each roommate will be as follows...

We have agreed to handle confrontation with each other in the following manner...

*As roommates we agree to follow the aforementioned guidelines and expectations. We also understand that this agreement will be used in any roommate conflicts where a roommate is contemplating a room change. No room change is allowed at W&J until roommate mediation occurs with a staff member.
